2.2.1 - The institution assesses the learning levels of the students and organizes special Programmes for advanced learners and slow learners

College has developed various methods to identify slow learners and advanced learners. The academic performance of students in the previous academic year helps us in identifying the slow and advanced learners. While deciding slow learners average class percentage is considered. The students much below the average class percentage are considered as slow learners. While identifying the advanced learners average class percentage is considered. The students much above average class percentage are considered as advanced learners. Besides, the subject teachers supervise the students while teaching them in the class and participating in various co-curricular and extra-curricular activities. Subject teachers select advanced students in their subject based on the students answering the questions, participation in seminars, discussion, making poster or wallpaper, assigning projects and survey, participation in elocution and essay competition.

After identification of slow and advance learners, college provides guidance to advanced learners to participate in seminars, workshops and in research activities organized in the college and outside the college. The meritorious students are given extra-library borrow cards and certificates. The slow learners are given special coaching by arranging extra-classes. All the teachers give personal guidance and counseling to slow learners. As a result the slow learners have successfully passed the University examinations while the advanced learners have shown outstanding performance in examinations. This policy of the college proved very successful in strengthening the teaching learning process. However this mechanism in the current year due to Covid-19 pandemic situation was greatly suffered.
